DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, lines 10-11 does "the surface" refer to a flat surface in line 8, or a surface in line 2?

3. Claims 2, 10, 15, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The language " adapted to" is considered vague and indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pick (722) in view of Summers (207).

Pick (722) discloses in Figure 12 a flat bottom, mounting bracket, with a housing; an elongated frame for supporting a reflector (38) and an elongated, germicidal, ultraviolet source (lamp) (34). Said mounting bracket having a removable hood (170), may be then mounted to a flat bracket (158), such that the ultraviolet source of radiation is adjacent and facing a surface to be irradiated, i.e. an air filter. Said ultraviolet source may be connected a ballast (col.11, line 11).

As seen in claims 2-3, Pick discloses at least to different displacements with regard to the ultraviolet source (lamp) (34) and filter, such that said source/filter are displaceable with respect to each other. For example, claim 2 refers to a fixed ultraviolet source and a rotating filter. While claim 3 refers to a fixed filter with an ultraviolet source that is moved across the face of said filter. When the ultraviolet source is displaced it can be rotated according to claim 4. Said ultraviolet source is moved by an electric motor (claim 5).

Furthermore, as seen in the secondary reference to Summers (207), an elongated, germicidal, ultraviolet source (lamp) having support brackets (46) with reflector (36)(Figure 2) can be rotated with respect to a fixed filter, as seen in Figures 5a-5c. An elongated, ultraviolet source (26)/reflector (52) may further have a focusing lens (54) (col.5, third paragraph and Figure 6). Although the reflector means can also focus the ultraviolet radiation in elongated narrow band on the filter medium (claim 2). Said ultraviolet lamp may be connected to a ballast (74) and said reflector to an oscillating (gear reduction) motor (col.6, lines 42 and claim 3). The reflector may be a parabolic reflector made of sheet aluminum having a polished side (claim 20).

Hence it is obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art that not only an elongated, germicidal, ultraviolet lamp/reflector may be support in some type of frame or support brackets, but the combination may be oscillated/rotated with respect to a fixed surface (air filter medium), by a gear-reduction motor, if so desired, as taught by said secondary reference.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Fencil (276) and Glazman (133) have been cited to show other similar devices.

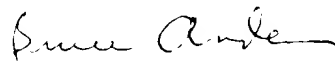

8. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.
